Why the BNP says . . . . . NO MORE MIGRANT WORKERS

The local workforce loses out

BRITISH workers with a mortgage to pay and a family to support need a living wage. They are being pushed out of jobs because migrant workers, living in multi-occupied accommodation, and with no UK dependants, will work for lower wages.

Our school children lose out

MORE and more migrant workers are bringing their families with them which puts pressure on local schools and services. When classes fill up with children who can't speak English, it is our school children whose education suffers.

Young families lose out

YOUNG families are being forced to live with parents or even live apart because of a shortage of rented accommodation. Landlords can make more money renting a house to foreign workers sleeping 4 to a room, than to a young British family.

First time home buyers lose out

FIRST time buyers are finding it increasingly difficult to get on to the property ladder because private landlords are buying up the cheapest homes to rent to migrant workers. This demand is pushing up prices beyond the reach of first time buyers.

The local economy loses out

LOCAL shops and services lose out because migrant workers send 60% of the money they earn in Britain back to their own country. British workers spend their wages in their local economy, keeping local shops and services in business.

British taxpayers lose out

MANY migrant workers come to Britain and work for nine months, then go back home for three months. This means they can claim back the tax they have paid. Those deciding to stay for over a year can then stop working and claim full benefits.

ELECTIONS 2007

Our campaigns have begun!

IN local council wards across the country, and in constituencies for the Scottish and Welsh Assemblies, British National Party activists have started their campaigns in earnest for the elections on May 3rd.

With the help of hundreds of new members signed up over the last three months in response to much-improved media coverage of the Party, the morale amongst the key activists in every branch, group and unit is the best it could possibly be which helps spur our election teams on to even greater efforts.

"There's a range of activities all going on at the same time in each ward, which are aimed to raise the profile of the BNP amongst voters," reports the head of the BNP's Election Department Eddy Butler.

"Door to door sales of Freedom provide a methodical approach where we meet voters on the doorstep and they indicate the strength of their support for the BNP when they buy a newspaper. It's a prelude to canvassing and helps provide much needed funds for the campaign."

"The clean-up team activities are a double-edged sword showing voters

we are part of the local community and prepared to act to get things done. A park is cleared of rubbish or a bus shelter is cleaned of graffiti and then 'before' and after 'photos' are included in a short print-run leaflet distributed to homes in the vicinity, showing the BNP in action.

"Patriot leaflets detailing where the local BNP stands on a range of local issues are put out across the whole ward. This shows voters that the BNP is out and about and campaigning a full two months before there will be any sign of Labour or the Tories."

Saturday morning papersales from a BNP stall in the town centre or on a local estate shopping parade are also proving very popular, especially as there is now a real demand from the public to know the BNP viewpoint and a positive response from the vast majority of people.

"It's a good way to make money and to promote the BNP," says Eddy Butler but he does have one request for those manning the stall.

"When someone buys a newspaper please try and find out where they live. Pre-polling day activity is all about locating your support. It's a real missed opportunity if you sell 100 newspapers and then don't know where this support comes from."

PATRIOT LEAFLETS: Help show voters that the BNP are a local party.

Please help us all you can

The British National Party made further progress along the road to gaining more political influence within our country with a very good set of local election results on May 4th 2006. Now it is vital that we build on these gains, so the campaign for the May 3rd 2007 round of local elections must start now. Funds are desperately needed to help finance this 'push for power' - please help all you can.

WHERE WE STAND

CRIME: A crack-down on crime with more 'Bobbies on the Beat'. Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty for child killers and terrorists. Zero tolerance for drug-dealers and violent thugs.

IMMIGRATION: An end to immigration and the scandal of bogus asylum seekers flooding Britain. Use the billions now wasted in foreign aid to fund generous 'Homeward Bound' schemes to encourage immigrants to return to their land of ethnic origin.

INDUSTRY: British ownership and control of British industry and resources, including the mass media. Protection of British jobs and industry by selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.

HEALTH: We will use the vast sums of money now wasted on funding our membership of the EU for the restoration of an effective national health service and proactive measures to produce a healthier population in the first place.

EUROPEAN UNION: British withdrawal from the European Union. We will trade with Europe where it benefits Britain, but want no political ties or monetary union.

EDUCATION: A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and an end to 'trendy' teaching methods which have failed our children so badly.

ENVIRONMENT: A healthy environment for a healthy people - the protection of our countryside; a ban on greenfield-site house building except in exceptional cases of genuine local need and an end to field trials of genetically modified crops.

FARMING & FISHING: The regeneration of British farming, with the objective of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food. The restoration of the fishing industry through protection of our traditional fishing grounds.

GOVERNMENT & COMMUNITY: The establishment of a government that puts British interests first. A return to healthy moral values and policies aimed at strengthening the family and community. Tough penalties for corruption in public life.

FREEDOM: A massive expansion of freedom and democracy to roll back the erosion of our traditional freedoms and truly reflect the wishes of the people. The adoption of popular referenda and high technology direct democracy.

DEFENCE: An alternative defence strategy based on the principle of armed neutrality. No British blood should be shed in conflicts which do not involve British interests. The restoration of the County Regiment system and the reversal of defence cuts which have weakened our Armed Forces and cost thousands of jobs.

REMEMBER! It doesn't matter if you don't agree with us on every last thing. Like all other democratic political parties, the BNP includes some members who disagree with one or two policies. Just ask yourself whether you agree with more of our policies than those of the other parties. Most people do, which is why we are the fastest growing political party in Britain today.
